IV. Cleaning and Maintenance of Steel Roofing

Like any other roof surface, Weaver Metal Products' products will have dirt exposure due to atmospheric conditions. Ordinarily, the cleaning action of rainfall will be adequate to wash the roof surface. However, steel roofing should be washed periodically by rinsing with a garden hose and clean, clear water, especially on those areas not exposed directly to rain. If you desire to do a more thorough cleaning, or where high soil collection conditions occur, follow these simple instructions.

1. Use a soft bristled, long handled washing brush. Do not rub vigorously, as this may create glossy areas over the metal finish.
2. For hard to remove dirt, such as grime found in industrial areas, wash the roof down with a simple wash solution: 2/3 cup household dish soap-1 Gallon water. Rinse immediately after washing.
3. If mildew is a problem in your area, prepare the above solution, but substitute one quart of laundry bleach for one quart of water. Rinse immediately after washing, with clean water.
4. Avoid washing with high pressure, as this may damage surface, and ruin weather seal.

These cleaning steps are for suggestion only, in an effort of assistance; however, Weaver Metal Products can assume no responsibility for results obtained which are dependant on the solution chemicals as prepared and the method of application.

It is required that property owner inspect Installed product at least annually to ensure that no conditions exist which could compromise life, or usefulness of installed product, and it is the responsibility of property owner(s) to ensure that such conditions do not exist. Such conditions shall void warranty.
